

Monthly Electricity Report

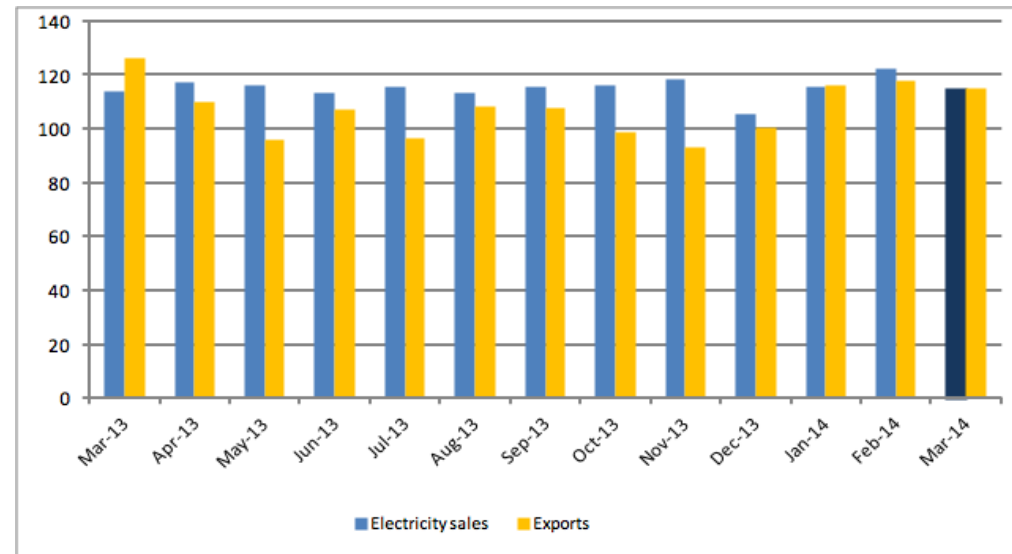

Chart 1: Electricity Total Sales Index (Respective Month 2010 = 100)

The electricity sales composite index (ESCI) consists of domestic sales and exports. The index showed a mixed trend of up and downward for the rest of 2013, however, an upward trend is shown in the first two months of 2014. The index declined to 115 in March 2014 from 122 in February 2014. In comparison with the corresponding month, it is slightly above with only one basis point.

The electricity sales increased in terms of mega watts hour in March 2014 from 250 901 MWh in February 2014 to 264 186 MWh in March 2014. Comparing to the corresponding month of March 2013, it increased by 2430 MWh.

Chart 2: Electricity Sales Sub-Sectors Index (Respective Month 2008=100)

In terms of the sub-sector performances, the Domestic electricity sales index of 115 for March 2014 is below the previous month of February 2014 by 7 points basis and slightly above the corresponding month of March 2013 by one point basis.

On the other hand, the export index in March 2014 (115) decreased by 3 point basis when compared to the previous month of February 2014 (118), but below the corresponding month of March 2013 with an index of 126.

